Course Description

The course will examine theories of beauty, the arts and the aesthetic in contemporary thinkers, while also considering historical treatments of these topics. Topics discussed will include aesthetic experience, beauty, art, the aesthetics of nature, literary interpretation, forgery, morality and emotion.

Teaching will consist of a weekly lecture (Wednesday, 11.10 a.m.-12.00 noon, 1.20, Dugald Stewart Building), and a tutorial, for which there will be two groups (times and places to be confirmed). The main lecture readings will also be used as a basis for discussion in tutorials. The tutorial in week 1 will be introductory; after this tutorials will move a week behind lectures, i.e. the tutorial in week 2 will be based on material from the lecture in week 1, etc. There will be an additional fortnightly meeting for M.Sc. students (time and place to be arranged).

Assessment

The summative assessment for the course will consist of a final exam in the May exam period (100%). Students will have the opportunity to submit a formative essay, for feedback and an advisory mark. A list of formative essay questions will be posted at the beginning of week 3. Fourth year honours students who have chosen to submit a coursework dissertation (5000 word essay) in this course should follow the usual procedure for coursework dissertations. They should consult the course organiser about their plans for the dissertation before the decision deadline (Monday 27th February). M. Sc. students will be assessed by an end-of-term essay of 2500 words, following the usual procedure for the M. Sc., and will have the opportunity to submit a midterm formative essay.
