

Economics and Gender

Tuesday 8 March 2016

9:30am-1:00pm, Room 2.11 (Coffee Room), 31 Buccleuch Place

We would like to invite you to the workshop "Economics and Gender", which will take place on March 8, 9:30am-1:00pm, in Room 2.11, 31 Buccleuch Place.

The main purpose of this internal workshop is twofold. In view of International Women's day, we would like to take the opportunity to showcase the gender-themed research produced in house, by our own faculty and PhD students. Ana, Carl, Ludo, and Noémi will each give 30 minute presentations on their research related to the theme of economics and gender.

Furthermore, the event is organised in the context of a larger conference scheduled to take place in June 2017 and organised by the School. With this workshop we would like to start the conversation regarding the conference and to receive suggestions and feedback with respect to its organisation. In particular, we would like to discuss the proposed list of keynote speakers and the best strategy to receive high-quality submissions. We will give a short presentation on this followed by a 15 minute discussion to get your opinions and input. Any other comments and tips will be very welcome.

Hope to see you all on March 8, International Women's Day!

Eventbrite - Please RSVP to the event using this link

This event is organised by Aspasia Bizopoulou, Alessia De Stefani and Dr Ina Taneva.

Programme

9:15-9:30	Registration & Coffee
9:30-10:00	"Gender Differences in Reaction to Feedback and Willingness to Compete" Noémi Berlin
10:00-10:30	"The UK's 'Great Mancession': a critical summary" Carl Singleton
10:30-10:45	A plan for a "Gender & Economics" Conference at the School of Economics in Edinburgh
10:45-11:15	Coffee & Cake
11:15-11:45	"Consequences of Emergency Contraception Availability: Evidence from Chile" Ana Nuevo-Chiquero
11:45-12:15	Ludo Visschers TBC