Further advice on Readings
Encyclopaedias are a very good source of extra reading. Avoid Wikipedia (it is often inaccurate on philosophy) but there are good internet encyclopaedias that can be useful:
The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy (SEP)
The Internet Encyclopedia of Philosophy (IEP)

Websites
We also recommend the following as starting points for your research:
PhilPapers
Philosophy Compass
The Diversity Reading List
You will need to know how to track down sources, including electronic journals, using the library search engine DiscoverED.

Tutorials

In addition to three course lectures per week, you will have weekly tutorials. These give you a chance to further discuss topics and issues in the course and its lectures. Tutorials will take place during weeks 2 through 11 of the semester.

Attendance at tutorials is compulsory for all students on this course. The class tutor will maintain a register of attendance. Unexplained absences will be brought to the attention of your Personal Tutor.

You will be allocated a suitable tutorial group by the Timetabling Department based on your timetable. Should you wish to change the group you have been allocated to, you will need to fill in the Group Change Request Form on the Timetabling Department’s webpage. This form will be open until the end of Week 3 – if you wish to change groups after this time please contact the Teaching Office directly (philinfo@ed.ac.uk).

Please inform your tutor and the Teaching Office of any absences. Students who miss tutorials may be required to do additional written work.

Assessment

This course is assessed by a mid-term essay (25%), a final assignment (70%), and short diagnostic quizzes (5%).

Mid-term essay

The deadline for the mid-term essay is by 12pm (mid-day), Tuesday 20th October.

You should submit your essay electronically via Turnitin on the Learn page. Please contact the Course Secretary if you are having problems uploading your essay.

The word count of your essay, including footnotes but excluding bibliography, must not exceed the specified word limit (1500 words). The precise word count must be written on the coversheet. Overlong essays will be penalised according to the following rule: 1% of the maximum obtainable mark will be deducted for every 100 words, or part thereof, over the word limit. So, exceeding the word limit by 1-100 words incurs a deduction of 1%; exceeding by 101-200 words incurs a deduction of 2%; and so on.

Final Assignment

The deadline for the final assignment is by 12pm (mid-day), Tuesday 8th December.

The final assignment will consist in three multiple short essays (1000 words each).

You should submit your assignment electronically via Turnitin on the Learn page. Please contact the Course Secretary if you are having problems uploading your essay.
The word count of your short essays, including footnotes but excluding bibliography, must not exceed the specified word limit. The precise word count must be written on the coversheet. Penalties will be applied as for the midterm essay.

Diagnostic Quizzes
There will be 30 quizzes in total (one for every lecture, excluding introductory and revision lectures). They will be available on Learn, 24 hours before the lecture and up to lecture time.

Quizzes will receive a diagnostic score: this will allow students to know how well they are doing and provide feedback for lecturers and tutors.

Quizzes will count towards final end of semester mark as a measure of participation: i.e. what matters is that you complete the quizzes, regardless of your score.

Completing at least 26 of quizzes = full 5% towards semester mark

If you complete less than 26 quizzes, here are the points you will receive

- Less than 6 quizzes = 0%
- At least 6 quizzes = 1%
- At least 12 quizzes = 2%
- At least 18 quizzes = 3%
- At least 24 quizzes = 4%

Resit
The resit for this course is a take-home test worth 100%. This will take place in the April/May exam diet. Students will be informed of the exact dates closer to the time.

Visiting undergraduates

The assessment arrangements for visiting undergraduates are the same as for other students.

Learning Resources

Learn
All lectures will be made available on the course’s Learn page.
You should regularly check your university email and check for announcements on the course Learn page.

The course Learn page will provide information concerning:

- General information and announcement about the course
- Lecture content (video and other)
- Tutorial arrangements
- Information about assessment arrangements

University of Edinburgh Library
All readings will be available on the course’s Resource List. Read more information on using Resource Lists HERE.

Exemplar essays
Anonymised exemplar essays will be on the Learn pages. These are essays written by past students that they have kindly agreed for us to use. We encourage you to read these essays in conjunction with the Philosophy-specific marking guidelines. In doing so think about the strengths and weaknesses of the essay, why the essays fell into their grade-band, and how they could have been improved.

There are many ways for an essay to fall into a particular grade-band. The Philosophy-specific marking guidelines provide explanation of the many, diverse, ways in which an essay can be a 1st, 2.i, 2.ii, and so on. The exemplar essays only show one way to achieve a certain grade; it is not the only way.

Autonomous Learning Groups
Each course has dedicated Autonomous Learning Groups. It is up to you, the members of the ALG, to organise the meetings. You decide how often to meet and what to do in your ALG. ALGs are designed to help you learn and get to know your classmates; they are not a formal requirement of the course. It is important to note that assessment in your courses is non-competitive: you aren’t competing against your classmates, only against the general grade criteria. It is in your interests to help each other.

You could use ALG meetings to:

- Read and discuss the papers together
- Discuss essay-writing and time-management techniques
- Constructively critique draft essays or plans
- Work on presentations or discussion posts that the class may involve
- Share tips on career advice

Please email the Course Organiser if you feel that it would be useful for the group if they joined one of your sessions. Please contact the course secretary if you find it necessary during the semester to transfer into a different group.

PhilPALS
PhilPALS is a peer-assisted learning scheme to help Philosophy first year students. PhilPALS on Facebook
Prizes

Students who perform with excellence in Morality and Value are eligible for the James Seth Prize.

Questions?

For all general questions about the course please use the GENERAL COURSE QUESTIONS discussion forum. This includes questions about the Learn page, availability of lectures and readings and general academic matters. Before you post, look in the forum to see if someone already posted the same question. Questions will be answered regularly, throughout the week.

For administrative questions (e.g. about submission of assignments), you should contact the Course Secretary.

If you have a question regarding specific lecture content you should ask it
- in the lecture Q&A discussion (on Mentimeter)
- in your tutorial group
- during the (online) office hour of the relevant lecturer

If you have a question about specifically academic matters that pertains only to you (e.g. special circumstances) contact the Course Organiser via email.
