The Old College is located within what is referred to as the Central Area South Campus of Edinburgh University and extremely well served by bus.

The nearest railway line is at Waverley Station in the city centre.

The main pedestrian access to the Old College, which lies between South Bridge and Chambers Street is from South Bridge.

Persons with mobility difficulties arriving by vehicle can access The Old College via South Bridge, Chambers Street and West College Street, although the two latter are best used if you are a wheelchair user.

Bus stops on South Bridge are approximately 150 yards from the main entrance and are located on the east and west sides of South Bridge and also Chambers Street.
