

Mind, Matter, and Language (PHIL08014)

19/20

Semester 1

This course is an introduction to philosophy of mind and philosophy of language. Its aim is to introduce some of the central problems and concepts in these areas, and to develop students' skills in critical thinking, understanding and analysing written texts, and clear writing. The course is suitable for students with little or no prior knowledge in philosophy.

Lecture slides and other materials will be available on Learn. Readings will be made available through a resource list accessible through Learn.

Further advice on Readings

Encyclopaedias are a good source of extra reading. Avoid Wikipedia (it is often inaccurate on philosophy), but there are good internet encyclopaedias that can be useful:

The Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy (SEP)

The Internet Encyclopedia of Philosophy (IEP)

Websites

We also recommend the following as starting points for your research:

You will need to know how to track down sources, including electronic journals, using the library search engine DiscoverED.

Tutorials

In addition to three course lectures per week, you will have weekly tutorials. These give you a chance to further discuss topics and issues in the course and its lectures. Tutorials will take place, at times and places to be arranged, during weeks 2 through 11 of the semester.

Attendance at tutorials is compulsory for all students on this course. The class tutor will maintain a register of attendance. Unexplained absences will be brought to the attention of your Personal Tutor.

You will be allocated a suitable tutorial group by the Timetabling Department based on your timetable. Should you wish to change the group you have been allocated to, you will need to fill in the Group Change Request Form on the Timetabling Department's webpage. This form will be open until the end of Week 3 – if you wish to change groups after this time please contact the Teaching Office directly (philinfo@ed.ac.uk).

Please inform your tutor and the Teaching Office of any absences. Students who miss tutorials may be required to do additional written work.

Tutorial preparation

We will post discussion questions for the tutorials on LEARN. You should try to answer these on your own before you go to your tutorial.

Assessment

This course has two assessments.

There is a final exam worth 75% of your final mark.

The Semester 1 exam diet takes place from 9th – 20th December (including Saturday 14th December) and it is the student's responsibility to ensure they are available for the whole of the exam diet. Exact details of the date, time and location of the exam will be announced later in the semester.

There is a midterm essay of 1500 words worth 25% of your final mark. The deadline is by 12pm (mid-day), Wednesday 6th November.

You should submit your essay via Turnitin on the Learn page. Please contact the Course Secretary if you are having problems uploading your essay.

The word count of your essay, including footnotes but excluding bibliography, must not exceed the specified word limit. The precise word count must be written on the coversheet. Overlong essays will be penalised according to the following rule: 1% of the maximum obtainable mark will be deducted for every 100 words, or part thereof, over the word limit. So, exceeding the word limit by 1-100 words incurs a deduction of 1%; exceeding by 101-200 words incurs a deduction of 2%; and so on.

Resits

The resit for this course is 100% exam and is held in the April/May exam diet. It is the student's responsibility to check the resit timetable on the Student Administration website, find the time and location of the resit exam and ensure they are present for that resit. No formal registration is necessary and students will not be individually notified of the resit date and location of resit exams.

Visiting undergraduates

The assessment arrangements for visiting undergraduates are the same as for other students.

Learning Resources

Learn

You should regularly check your university email and check for announcements on the course Learn page.

The course Learn page will provide information concerning:

- General information and announcement about the course
- Lecture notes and slides

- Tutorial arrangements
- Information about assessment arrangements

University of Edinburgh Library

The library's hard-copy and online resources can be searched online via DiscoverEd.

Exemplar essays

Anonymised exemplar essays will be on the Learn pages. These are essays written by past students that they have kindly agreed for us to use. We encourage you to read these essays in conjunction with the Philosophy-specific marking guidelines. In doing so think about the strengths and weaknesses of the essay, why the essays fell into their grade-band, and how they could have been improved.

There are many ways for an essay to fall into a particular grade-band. The Philosophy-specific marking guidelines provide explanation of the many, diverse, ways in which an essay can be a 1st, 2.i, 2.ii, and so on. The exemplar essays only show one way to achieve a certain grade; it is not the only way.

Autonomous Learning Groups

Each course has dedicated Autonomous Learning Groups. It is up to you, the members of the ALG, to organise the meetings. You decide how often to meet and what to do in your ALG. ALGs are designed to help you learn and get to know your classmates; they are not a formal requirement of the course. It is important to note that assessment in your courses is non-competitive: you aren't competing against your classmates, only against the general grade criteria. It is in your interests to help each other.

You could use ALG meetings to:

- Read and discuss the papers together
- Discuss essay-writing and time-management techniques
- Constructively critique draft essays or plans
- Work on presentations or discussion posts that the class may involve
- Share tips on career advice

Please email the Course Organiser if you feel that it would be useful for the group if they joined one of your sessions. Please contact the course secretary if you find it necessary during the semester to transfer into a different group.

Getting in Touch

If you have a question regarding lecture content you should ask it in your tutorial group and/or visit the relevant lecturer to discuss it during their office hour.

For other specifically academic matters you can contact the Course Organiser.

If you have questions not specifically about lecture content, you should contact the Course Secretary.

Prizes

Students who perform with excellence in Mind, Matter and Language are eligible for the James Hutchison Stirling Prize.
