

Remembrance Day Service

The University will host its annual Remembrance Day Service on Sunday, 12 November.

The service will be held at 10.15am at the Playfair Library Hall, Old College, South Bridge.

All welcome

Staff and students from the University of Edinburgh, Heriot-Watt University, Napier University and Queen Margaret University are welcome to attend, as are families, friends and members of the public.

Those attending should be seated in the Playfair Library Hall no later than 10.10am.

Units on parade will be the City of Edinburgh Universities Officers Training Corps, the Royal Naval Reserve and the East of Scotland Universities' Air Squadron.

Remembrance Day Service

Sunday 12 November 2017, 10.15am
Playfair Library, Old College, South Bridge

Find Old College on Campus Maps

Wreath laying

The Pipes and Drums of the Universities Officers Training Corps will be in attendance.

At the end of the service, the Services contingent will form in the Old College quadrangle for the laying of wreaths and to observe the two-minute silence.

A collection in aid of the Earl Haig Fund will be taken upon arrival.