

27 June 2017 – WaTeREd External Networking Event

The WaTeREd Network hosted an external networking event at the ECCI to help create connections between existing network members and water-related professionals interested in potential collaborations with University of Edinburgh researchers. The event consisted of four highlight talks, a ‘speed-dating’ style networking event, and an informal poster session.

The WaTeREd (Water Technology and Research at Edinburgh) Network was established to promote new multidisciplinary research collaborations across the University of Edinburgh. Our members work in Scotland and other countries around the globe.
