NEW COURSES AND PROGRAMME APPROVAL TIMESCALES

The timescales illustrated below are for programmes and courses that start in September, some programmes and courses will start in January and timescales should be adjusted accordingly.

Postgraduate research programmes should adhere to postgraduate taught programme timescales wherever possible.

New Course Approval Timescales

By the end of March for the following session unless in exceptional circumstances and providing that students are able to take the course (e.g. the course can be resourced, timetabled and students are able to sign up), in which case prior to the Semester in which they are to run.
