EXCHANGES

at the University of Edinburgh

As a University of Edinburgh student you have the opportunity to study abroad at one of our exchange partner institutions worldwide.

This guide contains our expected 2023/24 partners. Due to the UK's departure from the Erasmus programme, arrangements with some of our European partners are still in progress.

Information in this guide is correct at time of publishing, but may be subject to change.

University-wide exchanges

University-wide exchanges are open to most students whose degree programme permits a period of study abroad.

You will be required to identify an appropriate programme of study at the partner institution which meets your University of Edinburgh academic requirements. Other restrictions may apply.

See our Partner Guidance Notes to find out more about our University-wide partners.

Subject-specific exchanges

Subject-specific exchanges are open to students studying in a particular School or Subject Area.

Courses in the listed subject area should be on offer at the partner institution.

About the teaching language:

- Where only English is listed, a full course load should be available in English
- Where two languages are listed, a full course load may not be available in English and you will be required to evidence a minimum level of B2 in the language that is not English. (CEFR level B2)
- Where only a language other than English is listed, all or the majority of courses are taught in this language and knowledge of this language will be required (CEFR level B2)
- Please note: The teaching languages stated are based on information provided by our partner institutions but may change from year to year and at short notice. You should research your preferred partner university webpages before applying to ensure that you are aware of the language of instruction in your subject area.

For joint honours students:

- You should apply for subject-specific exchanges under the subject in which your degree is based (this is usually the subject which comes first in the title of your degree)
- Check your course and credit requirements with your School Exchange Coordinators and make sure your preferred partner institution(s) will allow you to meet them

If you are studying a European language as part of your degree you should refer to the DELC Year Abroad Handbook for detailed information on credit requirements.
