Introduction

This guidance document is written to support the Employment Separation processes within the University of Edinburgh. Employment separation processes are those that relate to employees leaving the university through resignation; terminations; internal transfers to a non-advertised post; retirement; the end of a fixed term contract or secondments; TUPE out; or are subject to involuntary severance.

The guidance is written by stage in the process and with the key roles involved in the process in mind. The responsibilities of a Line Manager, and School or Department Administrator may vary in this process between Colleges, Schools and Professional Service Group Departments. Line Managers should contact their local support team to understand the process and responsibilities within their own area.

For example, a School or Department Administrator could be performing tasks in the process of a Line Manager and where there is overlap, this is shown.

Employee Separation

Before you start

Familiarise yourself with the Leaving the University page which contains information for managers and employees about resigning or retiring from the University. The Pensions page provide details on the university’s pension schemes and retirement. The Occupational Health pages provide details for staff on referrals, occupational ill health reporting and other aspects of support in relation to general health, mental health and travel health.

The date of termination is their last day of employment, which is not necessarily the last working day as they may be taking outstanding annual leave before they leave the University.

If users have any queries about a stage in this process, they should Search My Knowledge for support in the first instance. Follow the P&M user guide ‘How to search my knowledge’. If they cannot find the information they need they should raise a service request, following the P&M user guide ‘How to raise and maintain a service request enquiry’.

Annual Leave

Employees must take all their leave entitlement before the leave date. Employees should only be paid for leave if there are operational reasons why leave can’t be taken. It is vital that all annual leave taken in the year is entered in the system to ensure the final salary is correct.

The annual leave policy explains how annual leave entitlement is calculated for leavers. People and Money will automatically calculate the remaining annual leave entitlement once the leaving date has been entered. Any annual leave not taken before the leaving date will automatically be paid.

In exceptional circumstances only, where the employee is not to be paid the full amount of outstanding leave, an ‘Exceptional Instruction to Payroll’ should be added to the Pay Adjustment field of the termination screen. This should include the amount of annual leave in hours the employee should be paid, and a short explanation. An example of exceptional circumstance may be that the absence balance is incorrect and there is no SDA available to update this. Unless there are exceptional circumstances the Pay Adjustment field should not be used for annual leave adjustments.

For more information please refer to the Guide to Annual Leave.

Employee Leaving One or More of their Multiple Assignments

As per the Annual Leave Policy, employees must take all leave entitlement before their last day of service in their role.
If, for operational reasons, employees are unable to take all of their accrued leave entitlement prior to their last day of service in the role, Line Managers should raise a Service Request using the Category ‘Pay Enquiries – General’ confirming how many hours annual leave should be paid to the employee for the post that they are leaving. Payroll will process the necessary payment of annual leave in the employee’s final salary for this role.

If an employee has used more than their accrued annual leave entitlement prior to their last day of service in the role, Line Managers should also raise a Service Request using the Category ‘Pay Enquiries – General’ to confirm how many hours annual leave have been overused. Payroll will then make the necessary adjustments e.g. pay deduction, to the employee’s final salary for this role.

Annual leave entitlement cannot be transferred from one assignment to another where an employee holds multiple assignments and one comes to an end.

Once an employee’s termination has been processed, Line Managers can review the employee’s pro-rated balance via My Team > Absence Balance.

Timecards

Any hourly based time, including Guaranteed Hours, overtime etc, must be submitted and approved before the last day of employment to ensure the employee’s final salary payment is correct.

In exceptional circumstances where the line manager/timekeeper has been unable to approve/submit the final timecard prior to the last day of employment the Guaranteed Hours Final Timecard form or Overtime Final Timecard Form can be used. Further details on this process and the forms can be found on the Finance Specialist Services Sharepoint Payments to Staff (sharepoint.com)

Correspondence and Checklists

Employees, Line Managers and School/Department administrators receive different leaver checklists via People and Money. Further information about the types of leaver checklists and correspondence, when they are sent and to whom, can be found in the Appendix to the How to Process Terminations guide.

If the employee who is leaving (or transferring) does not have access to People and Money, a line manager should provide a copy of the leavers checklist from the leaving the university webpages.

The employee will receive tailored correspondence automatically generated from People and Money, dependant on the action reason selected. For example, Resignation, the employee receives an ‘acceptance of resignation’ letter; End of Fixed Term contract, the employee will receive a ‘confirmation of fixed term contract ending’ letter. Local areas should not be sending out additional correspondence. If the employee leaving does not have access to their work email a line manager should provide a copy of the acceptance of resignation letter/confirmation of contract end date letter which will be automatically saved to the employee’s SharePoint employee file once the termination has been approved by HR Operations. Local School/Department Administrators will be able to provide line managers with a copy of this letter.
Step 1 - Resignation

The standard process followed when an employee resigns or retires from the University. This is an offline step in the process.

| Process                           | 1) Employees will provide written confirmation of their resignation and the notice period based on their conditions of service. Employees intending to retire will contact the pensions team 3 months’ before their planned retirement date. If the employee has more than one post at the University, they should confirm which post(s) they are leaving. 2) Discuss and agree last day of employment (which could include weekend) and when any outstanding leave will be taken. Request annual leave in People and Money | 3) Line manager receives written confirmation of resignation from employee 4) Confirm with the employee if they are leaving the post (and remaining with the University) or leaving the university 5) Discuss and agree final working day and when any outstanding leave will be taken. Calculate annual leave entitlement based on the leaving date using the annual leave calculator. Encourage the employee to take all their leave. Employees should only be paid for leave if there are operational reasons why leave can’t be taken. 6) Approve any agreed annual leave in People and Money to ensure the employee’s final salary payment is accurate. If the employee is leaving your team to take on another assignment at the University (transferring) DO NOT process this as a termination. Typically, the school or department where the employee is taking up the new post will process the transfer as part of the recruitment and onboarding process. | 3) SDA receives written confirmation of resignation from employee (or from LM on behalf of employee). Follow the steps in the SDA checklist, namely:
- Inform manager (by email). Await for confirmation from the manager and others who may need to be made aware. (e.g. if they are on a grant notify the grant teams)
- Liaise with the line manager to confirm the employee’s annual leave balance. Calculate annual leave entitlement based on the leaving date using the annual leave calculator. Encourage the employee to take all their leave. Employees should only be paid for leave if there are operational reasons why leave can’t be taken.
- Let your local facilities team know that the employee is leaving so that they can carry out local processes such as office/desk allocation or removal of swipe card access.
- Ensure your local IT team is aware the employee is leaving so that equipment is returned and re-allocated. |
If transferring to another post within the University, need to confirm first day in new post. Work schedule changes would be picked up in the transfer process.

An automated Acceptance of Resignation letter goes to employee when termination is approved and a leavers checklist will also be provisioned through People and Money.

- Make sure your local digital/web team(s) is aware the employee is leaving so that information on web pages, intranets and access to social media accounts can be updated.

- If applicable, ensure your finance or research office is made aware the employee is leaving.

- If the employee is in receipt of a staff scholarship please inform the appropriate contacts.

If the employee is leaving your school/dept. to take on another assignment at the University (transferring) DO NOT process this as a termination.

Supporting Information
P45’s and final payslip – Payroll will send these to the home address of the person leaving. Please ensure that the leaver has up to date contact details on People and Money before they leave. Employees should follow the ‘How to enter contact details into the system’ P&M user guide.

Step 2 - Termination
The process of HR Operations being notified of a termination and then terminating the assignment record on People and Money. This includes recording the date of termination, reasons for termination, and any pay adjustments. The date of termination is their last day of employment, which is not necessarily the last working day as they may be taking outstanding annual leave before they leave the University.

If the employee leaving is a Line manager, their LM must decide who will take over the management responsibilities of the leaver and agree this with all parties. (Offline discussion). If the employee leaving is a manager, then the Line manager or SDA should confirm who the new line manager would be by adding detail to the comments section of the Termination screen. HR Operations will populate HESA leaving information against the employee record. This process group also includes the automatic issuing of tailored correspondence to the employee, triggered by the termination action reason and the automatic issuing of leaver checklists (triggered by termination action) to employees, line managers and other relevant parties.

If the person leaving is on an annualised or fractional leave contract, please specify contract type in comments and where it is an annualised contract provide outstanding leave and the number of weeks worked up to the termination date. Where the contract is fractional - provide number of hours worked up to the termination date.

To be used for all terminations including: Resignation, including retirement; Dismissal, including capability, ill health, and conduct; Others, including end of fixed term contracts, redundancy, J & D code, mutually agreed terminations, and cancellation of hire.

For ill health retirement or death in service please refer to your HR Partner who will submit a Service Request to HR Operations to process the termination. Further guidance on the Death in Service process is on page 30 below.

HR Operations should check when a termination is entered if the leaver has direct reports that have not been reassigned. HR operations should check the resignation letter to ensure the termination date is correct and check with LM or SDA if there is a difference. HR Operations should change the delivery preference to have the final payslip/P45 sent by post. Refer to the HR Operations – Terminations checklist for specific instructions on how to do this.

If any clarity required from SDA by HR Operations, they will be contacted via email communication.

Step 5 - Arrange Exit Interview

The University offers an Exit Interview to employees if they wish to discuss reasons for leaving and provide feedback before they leave. Employees will be offered the opportunity to have an Exit Interview via a checklist item that is triggered by the termination process. An exit interview will be offered to employees leaving the University or an assignment, provided their reason for leaving is not dismissal, death in service, settlement agreement or TUPE out.

Line managers should offer their direct reports the opportunity to have an exit interview before they leave their team or the University. The manager conducting the exit interview will accurately record details of the exit interview on People and Money. The manager conducting the exit interview can be the employee’s line manager, or a senior member of staff in the employee’s school or department. The exit interviewer should decide an appropriate time and location for the exit interview, determine which questions will be asked, conduct the interview, review responses and propose actions (if required). At the beginning of the interview the exit interviewer will let the employee know that the information disclosed will be recorded on the system and that senior managers have access to view the information provided. Any concerning information will be brought to the attention of the Director of Professional Services (or equivalent) offline. They must make sure that the employee is aware of this and agrees to this before they proceed with the exit interview.

Reverse Terminations

This process should be followed in the following situations:

- A line manager has already completed the Termination screen to instruct the termination of one of their direct reports, but due to further discussion the date of termination has changed.
• A line manager has already completed the Termination screen to instruct the termination of one of their direct reports, but for a variety of reasons the employee is no longer leaving
• An employee is transferring to another post after a termination has been processed
• An employee is being extended after a termination has been processed.

In the first two instances, a line manager will initiate this process by raising a service request. In the other two, HR Operations will pick up the existing termination while carrying out other processes, and follow some steps in this process. If HR Operations need to perform a reverse termination after the payroll has run they must contact Payroll first to check that it is okay to do so.

This process will occur at regular intervals, due to the nature of late funding approvals for research specific roles.

As part of the Good Work Plan, which came into effect in April 2020, an employee who has left the university for a week or less, and is then hired into the same role should have their termination reversed so there is no break in service. They should inherit the continuous service start date from their previous employment. The continuous service/seniority start date on the assignment should be the same as the hire date, but the employee's seniority date (recorded at person level) should be the date they commenced employment in their previous role if break is less than one week.

If the employee has more than one assignment, then the reverse termination process needs to be completed for each assignment if the termination needs to be amended.

Terminations cannot be reversed once P45/RTI processes have been concluded. In that situation, employees must be processed as a rehire and they will be given a new assignment continuous service start date and a new assignment number.
Step 1 - Raise a Service request to reverse or correct a termination

If ok to proceed, HR Operations correct termination and update SR to resolve. If payroll has, run then HR Operations need to process as a rehire. Required that the continuous service/seniority start date on record needs to be corrected (termination could not be reversed) re-assign SR to HR Systems queue. |         | If needed update continuous service/seniority start date on record – termination could not be reversed. |}

Reference Requests

Reference requests include requests from prospective employers, banks, mortgage providers, letting agencies and any other finance provider looking for confirmation of an employee’s salary and employment status. This process is used in any instance of a reference request being received at the University or where employees themselves require the same documentation, e.g. employees who require confirmation of employment for visa applications. To be used in any instance of a reference request being received, whether by a line manager, SDA or HR.

The University of Edinburgh (HR Operations) will provide a standard factual reference, which include only Name, Job title, start and end dates of employment. Line managers or SDAs will no longer need to complete references, unless in a personal capacity. If Line manager or SDA is approached to give a reference on behalf of an ex-employee, they should include the following wording within the reference "this reference is provided in a personal capacity and does not represent the views of the University of Edinburgh”.

Completed reference requests are not required to be retained on employee record.

Ill Health retirement

Before you start
This covers the situation where an employee is resigning from the University and taking their pension as “retirement due to ill health”. The Flexible retirement process is covered in the Guide to Job Changes. Please not Line Managers/SDA’s should not process the termination in People and Money.

This process defines the steps required when the Pensions scheme has approved the ill health retiral of an employee. You should always consult your HR advisor prior to undertaking this process. This process documents how HR Operations are notified of retirement due to ill health. If the pension provider declines an application for ill health retiral, the employee can appeal this decision with the pension provider. If the pension provider does not change its decision on appeal, then the University has to terminate the employee’s employment as they have deemed themselves unfit to work by applying for ill health retirement.

End of contract – Fixed Term or Open Ended contracts with time limited funding, less than 2 years’ service

Before you start

This process applies to employees on fixed term contracts or open ended contracts underpinned by time limited funding with less than 2 years’ service who are approaching their end date, as well as employees on secondment (internal, incoming or seconded externally) nearing the end of their secondment. It relates to actions and decisions required prior to the extension or end of a fixed term contract, funding review date or a secondment. The extension process is covered in the Guide to Job Changes and the Termination process is covered below. The Ending Fixed Term Contracts and Restricted Funding Contracts Policy also provides further information. Please see the section on Redundancy below for employees who have contracts ending with over two years’ service.

Step 1 - Inform relevant parties of end of fixed term contract/open ended contract with review date or end of secondment

This applies where
• Employees on fixed term contracts due to end in five months’ time (who have less than 2 years’ service).
• Employees on open-ended contracts with review dates in five months’ time (who have less than 2 years’ service).
• Employees on secondment that are due to end in five months’ time

Reports are issued to relevant people (Line Managers, SDA and HR Operations) five months before the end of contract. The recipient only receives data pertinent to their area of responsibility (i.e. HR Operations- whole organisation, School/Dept. Admin – their School or Department, Line Manager - their Direct reports). Reports are generated and distributed on a monthly basis. Line Managers need to understand the management of the fixed term contract and redundancy processes. They need to be aware of the timelines, impact on the University and impact on the employee experience if they do not extend fixed term contract on time. If a fixed term contract is not extended in time, the employee will receive an auto generated letter telling them that their employment will be terminating on x date.

The report is automatically generated detailing all employees with end dates/review dates/secondment end dates across the University in next five months sectioned by College/PSG and then sectioned by process employee is following: J&D, < 18 months, >18 months <2 years, >2 years and end of secondment

HR Operations - End of fixed term and redundancy processes

Step 2a - End of Fixed Term Contract less than 18 months

Employees on FTCs with less than 18 months service will be captured in the standard termination process. This means they will receive tailored correspondence notifying them that their contract is ending on x date along with a leavers checklist to complete before their end date is reached. Line managers will be responsible for notifying HR Operations (or School/Dept. admin) if someone on a FTC of less than 18 months needs an extension or should have their contract terminated.

Step 2b - End of Fixed Term Contract 18 months to 2 years
Fixed term contract is ending for employees with length of service between 18 months and 2 years. There could be situation that employee contract is subsequently extended in which case the employee will receive communication to advise them of the extension as part of Job Changes process. Where the contract is not being extended, the contract will end on the designated date. The line manager/SDA must use the termination app to notify HR Operation to terminate the record.

Step 2c – Employees (normally students) who are on Fixed Term Contracts with J and D codes
Where an employee is on J (Student Experience Contract) or D (Training contract) code contract the line manager will decide to either extend the contract or confirm that the contract should end on projected end date. If the contract is ending earlier than expected then line manager/SDA should complete the termination screen. HR Operations will contact the HR Advisor for guidance.

School/Dept. Admin or HR Operations will no longer send J and D code letters to employees, instead they will be auto generated by the system when HR Operations enter the termination on People and Money. Line managers will need to understand the link between J code contracts and an employee’s matriculation status. Please refer to the Fixed Term Contracts Reason Codes guidance for further information.

A contract is only possible if the employee is a matriculated student in most cases. Line managers should contact their SDAs if they need access to information currently held on EUCLID system to be able to determine matriculation status of employee.

Step 2d - End of secondment
The process for recording the ending of a secondment and reverting the employee back to the pre-secondment arrangement. The below steps should be followed when the donor line manager or SDA knows that a secondment arrangement is ending. This could be any type of secondment: internal, incoming or employee seconded externally. It is important to notify HR Operations of the arrangements for the secondee returning (or not) to their substantive post.

TUPE Out

Before you start
Processes relating to the termination of employees who transfer from the University to another organisation under TUPE (Transfer of Undertakings) regulations. It describes the activities required to be completed prior to confirming the population of employees who will TUPE transfer out of the organisation. At the University, this is most likely to occur when the Principal Investigator of a research grant resigns in order to work at another institution and staff funded by the grant move with them under TUPE.

Step 2 - TUPE out Transfer Process

In cases where significant numbers of employees are transferring (more than ten), terminations will be actioned via a data load performed by HR Systems Administrators. If any employees are on a Certificate of Sponsorship (CoS), advice should be sought at the earliest opportunity from immigration specialists before deciding whether to proceed with the process or not. A negative outcome of a TUPE out transfer for staff with a CoS may have a significant impact on this process, since the TUPE process may not be able to proceed.

Adjustments for under/over taken annual leave should not be made upon leaving as a result of a TUPE out transfer. Payroll will be notified of TUPE out transfers via reporting. If termination reason is TUPE, payroll should always override system default to pay out annual leave, as employees take annual leave days with them. Payroll should deduct any outstanding loan payments from those leaving due to TUPE in the same way as for other standard terminations. This process does not happen often, but when it does occur it needs to be completed quickly and in conjunction with external organisations, by HR advisory staff and HR Operations team members. Numbers of employees affected in each TUPE case can be as little as one or could be an entire department. Standard template letters will be available to HR Advisors in a shared area.

Redundancy - fixed term contracts or open ended contracts with time limited funding with over 2 years’ service

This section describes the processes that should be followed in a variety of redundancy situations. Employees on fixed term contracts or open-ended contracts with time limited funding, who have 2 years’ service, qualify for various entitlements. Redundancy can also occur because of organisational change.

Before you start
For line managers - Please familiarise yourself with the Redundancy Policy and the Ending Fixed Term Contracts and Restricted Funding Contracts Policy. For employees at risk of redundancy please familiarise yourself with the support for staff at risk of redundancy webpages. This includes policy information, how to add your details to the Redeployment Register and other career transition support at the university.

Notification of “at risk”
This process relates to employees of fixed term contract due to end in 5 months’ time and who have more than 2 years’ service, or employees on open-ended contract with a review date in 5 months’ time who have more than 2 years’ service.
Step 1 - Review report detailing end dates and initiate conversations about end of employment with affected employees (offline)

| Process   | 1) Review report that details all employees whose contracts are coming to an end or who are on an open ended contract with a review date ending in 5 months’ time and at which point they will have over 2 years’ service. (offline process).
2) If the contract should be extended, the line manager should follow the contract amendment process (job changes – contract amendment process).
3) If not, Line manager/SDA sends amended report back to HR Operations by email with details of employees who are at risk
6) Manager receives notification of MEP from HR Operations (offline)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 4) HR Operations select “at risk” in the drop down menu
5) HR Operations determine if an Mandatory Employer Payment (MEP) applies to employee (offline).
To determine if an MEP would apply on the termination of an employee’s contract, HR Operations should refer to the MEP guidance document and answer the following questions:
Q1.Is reason for termination Redundancy? If no – no further action
Q2. If Yes, will employee be >50 <60 at date of leaving? If no – no further action
Q3. If Yes, is employee a contributing member of USS.
Q4. If Yes, check MEP Spreadsheet
Q5. Is employee listed. If yes – is there an MEP value? Note: If Employee is not listed, this will either be due to:– The timing of the report, i.e. the employee will have joined UoE after the MEP report was ran, or the employee being on an open-ended contract with no review date. In these instances, HR should contract the Pensions Department (but only if answer to questions Q1, Q2 and Q3 above is “Yes”.
7) Letters are issued via ‘Additional Assignment Info’ ‘status’ field updated with ‘at risk’ and auto/ manual updated as appropriate.
8) At risk letter is auto generated and sent to employee, letter attached to employee SharePoint record, and SCCRA report is manually updated by HR Operations.
9) HR1 Report updated if ‘at risk’ correspondence issued to employees on open-ended contracts with review dates. |
Step 2 – Employee receives notification that “at risk” and consultation meeting held

Notification of redundancy

This process relates to employees of fixed term contract due to end in five months’ time and who have more than 2 years’ service or employees on open-ended contract with a review date in five months’ time who have more than 2 years’ service. If employee received auto generated ‘at risk’ letter, 2 months later the employee and line manager should receive an auto generated ‘final notice’ letter, 3 months before their end date. This is sent via P&M to the employee and copied to Line Manager.

Redundancy as a result of organisational change
This section outlines the process that may apply during periods of organisational change or when a fixed term contract is ending earlier than expected, or the external funding for a role is ending earlier than expected. Further information is available in the Redundancy Policy.
HR Advisors will follow the University’s policies, work closely with line managers, and then notify HR Operations of the outcome using this process.

<td>2) If employee is put at risk of redundancy this information is updated on the HR1 report. 3) HR Operations updates each employee record on People and Money and produces the relevant correspondence (e.g. contract change or new contract of employment). If HR Operations are advised that there is a termination then this follows the standard termination process. 4) Update information for SCCRA trend analysis report. (offline annual task)</td>
<td>8) HR1 report checked at the end of each month and as per legislation outlined in Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992, Part IV, Chapter II, if the number of employees placed at risk is greater than 20 in the upcoming 90 days then the Redundancy Payments Service is notified. Where the number of employees placed at risk is less than 20 in the next 90 days then no further action is required (offline) 9) If the number of employees placed at risk is more than 20 in the next 90 days, the HR1 Form and cover letter must be completed and sent to the Redundancy Payments Service. 10) Upload copies of HR1 form and cover letter OneDrive for Trade Union representatives to view. 11) At the end of each academic year run SCCRA trend analysis report. Settlement agreement preparation
This process is normally required when a resolution to a conflict is required that cannot be resolved by other means. The process is conducted entirely off system; therefore, a detailed systematic execution is not included here. High-level steps are:

- HR Advisor, employee and line manager liaise to agree on settlement agreement
- HR Advisor produces management case and seeks management approval
- HR Advisor drafts settlement agreement documentation from standard template
- Signatures sought from employee and University representatives, any amendments required are made
- Documentation saved in casework section of employee record.

Settlement agreements are legally binding contracts that waive an individual’s rights to make a claim covered by the agreement to an employment tribunal or court.

- The agreement must be in writing.
- They are voluntary.
- They can be offered at any stage of an employment relationship.

The HR Advisor inputs the termination into People and Money. HR Operations process the termination. Payroll receive notification any relevant aspects of the settlement agreement. Agreements will not be attached to the termination.
Dismissal

This process details the information that is required to be submitted to HR Operations in order for them to carry out a termination due to dismissal. The decision to dismiss someone will have already been made as part of processes detailed in HR 12 Employee Support and Engagement – Case management.

Death in Service

The process of terminating an employee following a death in service. This process outlines the steps that should be taken in the event of an employee’s death. There should always be flexibility around this given the sensitivities of the situation. The process is conducted offline, and feeds into the standard termination process. In this situation the termination is actioned in People and Money by HR Operations, on receipt of a Service Request from the HR Partner, Line Managers or SDA’s should not process the termination in People and Money. There will be no automated checklists or correspondence to the employee when the Death in Service reason is used as part of the termination process.

The process for Death in Service is conducted mostly off system; therefore a detailed systematic execution is not included here. Please refer to the University’s Death in Service Guidance on the HR A-Z of Policies and Guidance. The guidance outlines the actions to be taken when there is a death in service of an employee, and provides information about the support available to managers and employees affected by the death of a colleague.
